

Terri Laurenceau

Terri Laurenceau is currently Academic Chair of Industrial and Entertainment Design at the Art Institute of Pittsburgh where she is responsible for 250 students and 11 faculty members in the program. Previous to her position at the Art Institute she was an Assistant Professor of Industrial Design for 5 years in the College of Architecture, Department of Industrial Design, at Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta. Terri practiced for 23 years as an industrial designer prior to teaching. She worked as a product designer for such companies as Kenner Toys where she had the opportunity to work on the original Star Wars toy line, Hewlett-Packard and Bausch & Lomb, as well as Arato Designs, an industrial design consulting firm in Toronto, Canada. She also owned and operated a small consulting design firm in Ontario. Terri received her BID (Bachelor of Industrial Design) from Pratt Institute and MA from The Ohio State University.